David Meets "The Juice"

"I at last got to meet O. J. Simpson. It was a wonderful experience and everyone was nice," David Wayne Bryant stated when asked about his recent trip to Baltimore, Maryland.

David, the 16 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert A. Bryant of Appomattox and a Junior in high school (homebound), has been sick since he was three and one-half weeks old. "Renal failure", a cronic kidney disease, was diagnosed when he was only two and one-half years old.

A large part of his life has been spent in hospitals - at times very ill, and for over two years he has been confined to a wheelchair - but that has not kept David from leading a good, full life.

An avid football fan for four years, O. J. "The Juice" Simpson is his idol! On December 16, 1973 David lay in a bed in Virginia Baptist Hospital, under oxygen and quite ill, but with his eyes "glued" to the TV set he watched as his idol, "The Juice", set his record of 2000.3 yards rushing in one season. David took pictures of O. J. Simpson with him many of the times he has been hospitalized.

In January of 1975, David was once again quite ill and was back in the Virginia Baptist Hospital, a place he is very familiar with and a place where he is well known and liked by hospital staff and his doctors. Dr. John Powell, one of the doctors who has been treating David for a long time, came into the room, sat on the bed and said, "David, just hang in there, come next Fall you, 'old Tom Albertson' (nickname for another of his doctors), and I will go see "The Juice" run."

When his condition improved he was asked by the doctors to write for a season schedule of the Buffalo Bills (the team that O. J. plays with) as David enjoys writing and has corresponded with O. J. Simpson in the past. "The Bills" schedule came and the closest game to Appomattox was to be played in Baltimore, Maryland on October 12, 1975 when the Bills were to play the Baltimore Colts.

Dr. Powell and Dr. Albertson began making plans for the trip, getting tickets, making reservations - and a dream came true for David. He met O. J. Simpson and watched his favorite team come up with a win 38-31.

Even more exciting, the two doctors from Lynchburg and David, who left for Baltimore on Saturday morning, October 11 and returned home Sunday night, stayed at the Cross Keys Motel on the same floor with the Buffalo Bills. David not only met "O. J." but visited with him and the entire Bills team several times during their two-day stay.

He brought home a stack of autographed pictures, souvenirs, and memories that he'll never forget. But thinking of others more than of himself is typical of David and he got a great deal of pleasure by presenting his idol, "The Juice", with a gift, an Historical Medal from Appomattox County that he purchased at Appomattox Court House National Historical Park.

Bike-A-Thon Big Success

Forty-five riders began their ten mile ride at 2 p.m. on Sunday afternoon to make money for the American Cancer Society, Appomattox County Unit. The cyclists had been out and gotten pledges - so much money donated for each mile they "made it" - and the total pledged amounted to approximately $2050.00.

Last year in the Bike-A-Thon 1974, thirty-six riders participated in the annual event and raised approximately $1300.00 about $700.00 less than Bike-A-Thon 1975.

Miss Claudia Gordon, Celebrity Kick-Off Chairman for 1975, spoke to the riders thanking them for their support prior to the beginning of the ride then she rode the entire ten-mile scenic route with them . . . and the weather was beautiful.

Naturally the "riders" get the credit for fund raising but recognition should be given to members of the Board of Directors of the Appomattox County Unit, American Cancer Society.

Those assisting at Checkpoint One were Mary S. Hudson, and Janet Noble, boardmembers; and volunteers Carolyn Coleman, Dorothy Pannell and Mrs. Jessie Ebbs along with Appomattox County Rescue Squad volunteers, James Rogers and James Womack, Sr. At Checkpoint Two were Unit President Dr. Clyde G. O'Brien and Mrs. O'Brien and Anderson Scruggs of the Rescue Squad. At Checkpoint three board members, June Chenault and Marian Harwood assisted along with Rescue Squad member, Abner Scruggs and Mrs. Scruggs.

Deputy Sheriff M. Dallas Moore provided the police escort. The Rescue Squad escort vehicle was manned by Pete Doss and Grover Beasley, Jr. and Donald and Baxter Parris were Transportation Escorts.

Coordinators for the Bike-A-Thon 1975 were June Chenault, Millie Trent, Ellen Jamerson, Norma Chuchek, and Janet Noble.

Role Of Agency On Aging

After the federal Older Americans Act was passed in 1965 required states to establish a single State agency to administer the provisions of the Act, it became increasingly clear that agencies specifically responsible for aging service development were necessary on a local level to assure program success. The 1975 Amendments to the Older Americans Act stipulated that each state would establish Area Agencies on Aging (AAA's). In addition to the State Office on Aging. These Area Agencies on Aging would cover a specific area of the State called a "planning and service area." Virginia has been divided into twenty-two (22) planning and service areas which coincide with the Planning District boundaries. Twenty-one (21) AAA's will be established by January 1, 1976 (Two planning and service areas have united under one AAA) to provide services to every jurisdiction in
